ENERGEX Update on negotiations @ Energex

YOUR UNION THE AUSTRALIAN SERVICES UNION (ASU) WANT TO CLARIFY AN IMPORTANT OMISSION IN THE CORRESPONDENCE SENT OUT TODAY FROM ENERGEX MANAGEMENT TO ALL STAFF.

It is true that the scheduled meeting organised for July 17, 2008 to continue negotiations for a new Union Collective Agreement was cancelled by management due to the industrial action being carried out by the combined unions.

However, it is important to note that your union, through ASU Organiser Kevin Place, attempted to have the meeting date changed for earlier in the week when it was realised that the date of the industrial action clashed with this meeting.

Energex refused to change the meeting claiming it would be impossible to find a venue at such short notice.

It continues to be the ASU's intention to continue to participate in the negotiating process to get the best outcome for members.

The ASU feels that this important point should be made known so that there can be no misunderstanding in this regard.

For further information please call ASU Organiser John Kelly on 3252 8666.
